It's totally bearable!

This message is Bear Approved

I decided to take this class because I wanted to increase my knowledge of the programs offered by Adobe.

I figure because the world is going digital, that I ought to be a modern bear in a modern world and transfer my traditional art skills into the digital realm.

I want people pay me to build digital bears that make them laugh, either through illustration, character development, or animation. Or all 3.

(I guess other characters outside of bears would be okay too.)
(But mostly bears...)
(Because bears.)

I really enjoyed making this project in Photoshop.

Everyone's heard of an all boy-band, well, I got to form my all bear band!

I chose the iconic Abbey Road for my backdrop because it's instantly recognizable.

(Believe it or not, I found it with the Beatles already Photoshop-ed out of it on Reddit.) Remember to be open to other resources!

And be patient with yourself!

ILLUSTRATOR DOESN'T HAVE TO BE SCARY!

COULDN'T GET BITTEN
BY A MORE AGGRESSIVE
TYPE OF WERE-BEAR THERE,
COULD YOU, GLENN?

BUT IT'S MORE FUN THAT WAY!

I really enjoy creating original characters.

Glenn, the Disguntled Were-Bear is among my favorite new vector created friends.

The biggest challenge I had with Glenn was making him an outfit that was more of the classic werewolf style, it's subtle but now you can't unsee the idea.

To create the flannel like pattern on the shirt I used the crosshatch effect on the stroke and it looks pretty cool.

Sending You Well Wishes!

Full of Animated Well Fishes!

I had a really good time creating Fishing Well in Adobe Animate. My lil 30 second animation project has a fun unexpected twist at the end.

It's silly and that's what makes it fun.

Don't forget to have fun with your projects, the stress won't get to you as much if you enjoy what you're creating!

Cheers!
