

FANTASTIC WORLD

Because learning is a journey that never ends, is vital in more ways than one and career transitioning must start somewhere, taking VMD 105 readily made all the sense in the known universe to me. The ensuing artwork represents my fanciful interests and low brow approach to art and things artistic. In two words: the FANTASTIC.

Photoshop Raster Project

I've always been fascinated by the mystery, fury and sometimes sinister beauty of Mother Nature and her elements. Here we have the author-creator injecting himself humorously into the mix as the Lava Fiend takes exception to his inclusion.

BEYOND THE VEIL
OF KNOWLEDGE

Illustrator Vector Project

Favorite themes of mine include space exploration and travel without the use or need of space vessels as well as intergalactic entities so all-powerful as to be considered gods. Here we have the philosopher-cosmic traveler Silver Surfer heeding his creator and master Galactus as he makes his way through the cosmos in search of the world-food needed for survival.

Animator Project

I wanted to capture the other-worldly beauty and fantastic dangers of exploring unknown and far flung planets and celestial bodies. In this still we see the Surfer doing a fly-by of an inhospitable planet in his never ending quest to feed Galactus.

The End
