Hi there! Welcome to my Portfolio for the VMD 105 class. In This Portfolio you will find all of the works Final projects I did for this class. I learned a lot of new things on the programs from the Adobe Suite that will for sure help me to create even more complex projects in the future!

Photoshop Final Project "Forgot My Seatbelt."

I really had a lot of fun working on this piece. My goal was to show me falling down from an airplane barely saving myself with a portal from the video game "Portal". For the background I chose one of my favorite pieces of architecture: the Tokyo Skytree tower in Tokyo, Japan.

Illustrator Final Project my personal logo.

It was nice to work with my favorite software of the Adobe Suite to make a logo that I'm pretty satisfied with. However, after further thinking, I do not think that the background I originally chose goes well with the logo itself.

Animate Final Project Animating my personal logo.

For this project my goal was to create a simple animation of my logo that could be played on repeat. The animation starts off from a simple round shape to transform into rectangular pieces that make up the logo. For the sounds, I used sounds of a piece of steel being hit. I like the result of this project but if I had to do it again I would try to make the movements smoother.
